Where are all the books going? With thousands of library items slated for removal from the collection, many Watchung Library patrons have concerns about the deaccessioning (weeding) now going on at the library.

Come find out what's behind the drastic changes at the library when Somerset County Library System Administrator Brian Auger discusses "What's Up in Watchung?"

Mr. Auger will discuss best practices for public libraries in collection management, including:

- The Five Laws of Library Science
- Changes in publishing and how library collections are changing
- Goals of collection management and measures of success
- The life cycle of a book and deselection of materials

There will be time for questions from the audience.
